KANGAROO

Australia has many other animals such as wombats, kookaburra, and koalas. Koalas are endangered. This means there are so few koalas left, they are in danger of disappearing forever.

KOALA

Kangaroos are herbivores. Herbivores are animals that eat plants like grasses, herbs, and shrubs.

Australia is home to 25 million people and an estimated 50 million kangaroos! That means in Australia, there are more kangaroos than people.
